The Urns — Doris W. Jaeger

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY
PHOTOGRAPHIC STUDIES

IMPORTANT DATES

Aug. 15—Summer Session ends
Oct. 4—Last day for program changes
Nov. 4—Holiday
Nov. 27–29—Holidays
Dec. 22–Jan 4—Holidays
Jan. 21—Examinations
Jan. 21–Feb. 3—Registration
Feb. 4—Spring Session begins

THEATRE BUREAU

We offer two services—

(1) Tickets for operas, concerts and theatres at reduced rates, running as low as one-half the box office prices.
(2) Tickets for other performances, at the box office price, plus a small service fee.

The Bureau is assured the best available seats.

This service, which saves time and inconvenience, is growing in popularity. A bulletin is mailed out weekly. Leave your address at the Bureau.

Telephone, University 3200
Extension 675

RARE BOOKS

This department searches for rare, out-of-print and technical items. Information is given freely. Every student should acquaint himself with the subject of rare books; a subject of increasing importance, interest, and financial prominence in the book world. Patrons may leave their names with the Rare Book Department and receive without any obligation regular quotations on items of interest to them.

Telephone, University 3200
Extension 103 or 142

IMPORTANT DATES

March 2—Last day—
Fellowship applications
Master's degree applications
April 1—Last day—Doctor's degree applications
April 2–6—Holidays
May 1—Choose 1931-32 Studies
May 18—Examinations
May 20—File Master's Essays
May 30—Holiday
May 31—Baccalaureate
June 2—Tuesday, Degrees Conferred

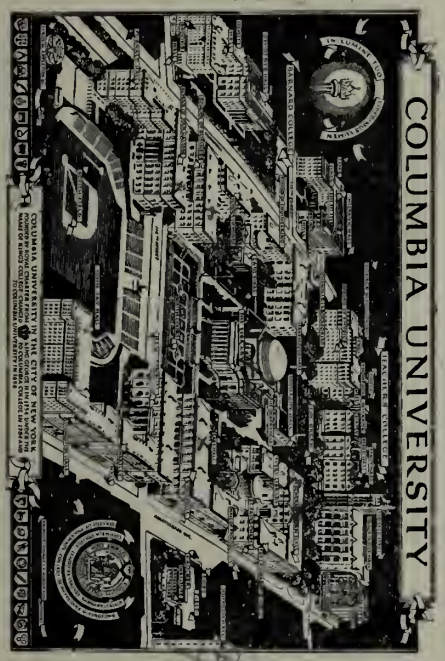
(OVER)

CAMPUS BOOK MARK

THE LOWER FLOOR

The plan of the Bookstore organization provides that the lower floor shall be devoted to the general needs of students and faculty members. Here will be found stationery, jewelry, fountain pens, gift ware, drawing instruments, laboratory supplies, sports goods, film developing service, picture framing service, men's furnishings, miscellaneous articles, and the Soda Fountain.

Telephone, University 3200
Extension 344 or 672



TYPEWRITER DEPARTMENT

We carry all of the standard portable typewriters, new and second hand. They may be purchased outright, on installment, or rented. Discounts are made as large as possible. A repair man is always available. Prices for repair jobs are lower than elsewhere, and the work guaranteed. No student should deprive himself of a typewriter. It costs little to rent one for an experiment in efficiency.

Telephone, University 3200
Extension 672 or 344

(OVER)

LIBRARY

C. J. Martin

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY
IN THE CITY OF NEW YORK

PHOTOGRAPHIC STUDIES

Published by
COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY
MORNINGSIDE HEIGHTS
NEW YORK

Copyright 1920
Columbia University
in the City of New York

ROBERT·L·STILLSON
COMPANY·NEW YORK

THE UNIVERSITY

IN these modern days the University is not apart from the activities of the world, but in them and of them. It deals with real problems and it relates itself to life as it is. The University is for both Scholarship and Service; and herein lies that ethical quality which makes the University a real person, bound by its very nature to the service of others. To fulfil its high calling the University must give and give freely to its students, to the world of learning and of scholarship, to the development of trade, commerce and industry, to the community in which it has its home, and to the state and nation whose foster child it is. A University's capacity for service is the rightful measure of its importunity. The University's service is today far greater, far more expensive, and in ways far more numerous than ever before. It has only lately learned to serve, and hence it has only lately learned the possibilities that lie open before it. Every legitimate demand for guidance, for leadership, for expert knowledge, for trained skill, for personal service, it is the bounden duty of the University to meet. It may not urge that it is too busy accumulating stores of learning and teaching students. Serve it must, as well as accumulate and teach, upon pain of loss of moral power and impairment of usefulness.

—From President Butler's Inaugural Address, 1902

MINERVA
C. J. Martin

EARL HALL—SPRING

Antoinette B. Hervey

NORTH GATE AND HOUSEHOLD ARTS

C. J. Martin

ILLUMINATION

Doris W. Jaeger

JOURNALISM—NIGHT—1915

C. H. W. Keefe

PHILOSOPHY

Siegried M. Upton

CHAPEL COLUMNS—LATE AFTERNOON

C. J. Martin

CHAPEL

Antoinette B. Hervey

COLUMNS

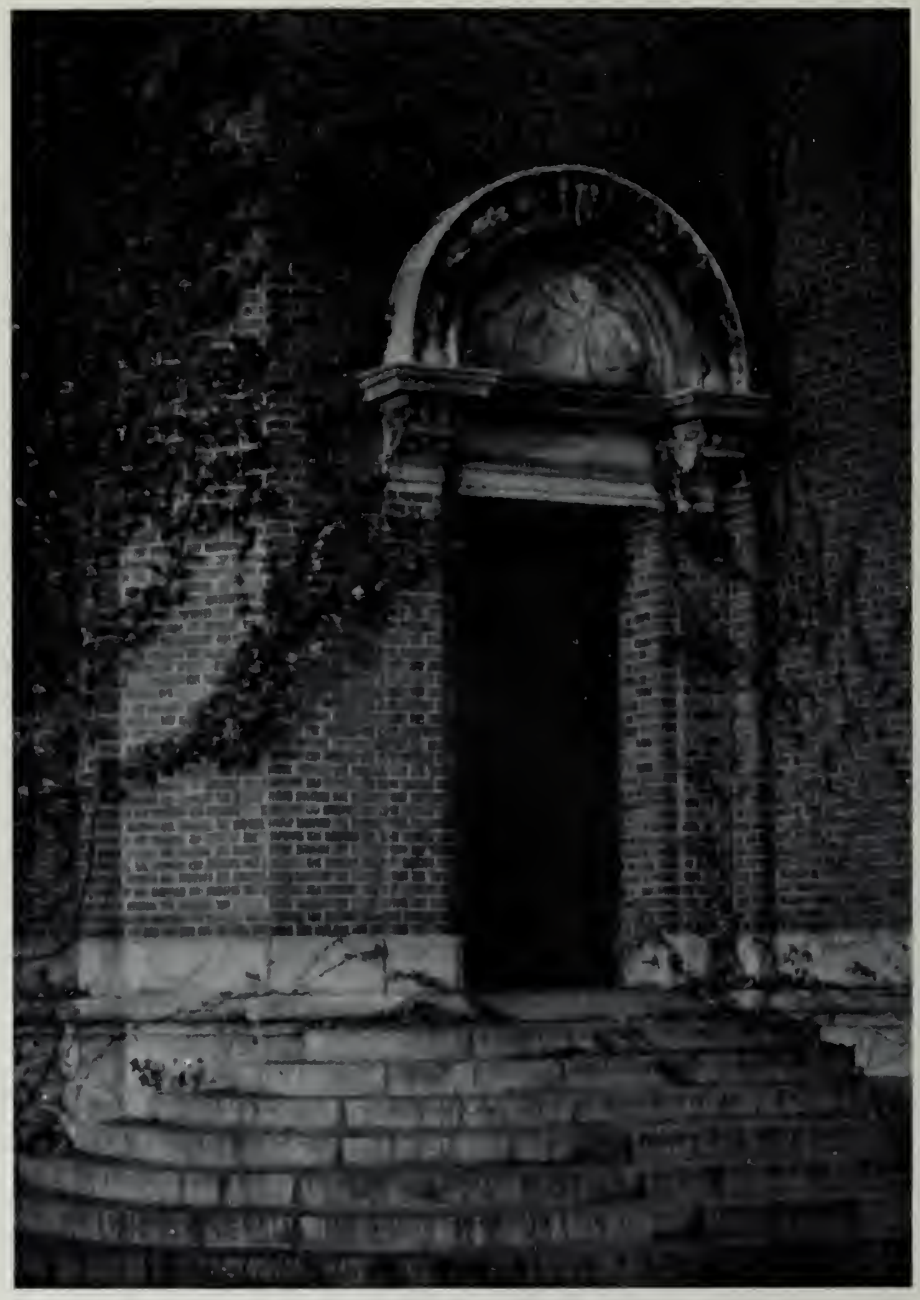
Antoinette B. Hervey

KENT AND HAMILTON

C. J. Martin

LIBRARY—MAY

Antoinette B. Hervey



CHAPEL—SOUTH DOOR

Antoinette B. Hervey

TREES

Mrs. Sterling Smith

SENTINELS
Hilda Altschul

FACULTY CLUB

Miss Louise Martin

AVERY

C. J. Martin

SPECIAL
93-B
2744

THE GETTY
LIBRARY